COTTON MARKET BREAKS HEAVILY AT NEW ORLEANS

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Sept. 19.—Cotton prices broke 100 points today following an early advance. The main depressing influence was the weakness in stocks, free of the demoralized condition of this speculative element due to last week's sharp declines. The break occurred in the last half hour of trading when December sold off to 20.60, compared with 21.60 the morning's high. The market rallied a few points in the late trading but the undertone continued weak.

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 19.—Cotton futures broke nearly $5 a bale on the New York Cotton Exchange today, on heavy selling inspired by reports of more favorable weather and expectations of a bearish killing report. The December option fell from a high of 21.50c a pound to 20.65c.

CORSICANA MAN IS KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNED TURTLE

William Farmer, Corsicana painter, aged 24 years, was instantly killed one mile south of J. Howard turned over three times on a sharp curve when the car struck loose dirt. His neck was broken, his head was crushed and other injuries received. Mrs. Farmer was driving the car at the time of the accident. None of the other occupants received injuries. They were en route to Dallas at the time of the fatal accident.

It is thought that Mr. Farmer either bumped or fell out of the automobile and the car rolled on him, crushing him.

The body was brought to Corsicana on the noon interurban.

The funeral services were held at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church Monday afternoon with interment in the Zion's rest cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Paul D'Arcy, pastor to the Max Avenue Methodist church, assisted by Rev. M. A.

PAY SAND FINALLY PICKED UP SATURDAY CEDAR CREEK WEEL

Pay sand in the Transcontinental Lewis 1 in the Cedar Creek area at Mexia was finally picked up Saturday at 2895 feet, and penetrated about a foot. Casing was being run and cemented over the weekend.

The sand in this well was about 15 feet lower than the production found in the Reiter-Lewis-Monray Ward 1 discovery well in the field. The new well is a north-west offset to the discovery well.

Miss Helen Houston continues to improve at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic following an operation several days ago.

Turner, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church.

The deceased was a member of the local painter's union and the Corsicana Lodge No. 63, I. O. O. F.

Surviving are his wife, two small children, father, Harvey Farmer, Corsicana; one brother, and numerous other relatives.

GERMANY CHALLENGES WORLD TO PROVE WAR GUILT WHILE LEGION CONVENES IN PARIS

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Sept. 19.—Germany's challenge to her late enemies on the subject of war guilt, as broadcast by President Von Hindenburg at the dedication of the Tannenberg battle memorial was received generally today as a prelude to a more vigorous campaign for the moral rehabilitation of the Reich in the eyes of the world.

Time has not softened the sting of paragraph 231 of the Treaty of Versailles, which declares that the war was forced on the allied powers by Germany and her allies, and which has been ever since denounced from public platforms, press and pulpit here as an untruth to which the German signatories were forced to subscribe under duress.

The President in his speech yesterday declared that Germany had unsheathed the sword with a pure conscience and in self defense. The memory of those Germans who fell "fighting for the freedom of their country" and the honor of those still living, he said, "enjoin me here and now to declare solemnly: The accusation that Germany was responsible for this greatest of all wars we hereby repudiate. Germany is ready at any moment to prove this fact before impartial judges."

Dramatic Reunion.
His declaration was frantically applauded. The speech was preceded by a dramatic reunion with General Ludendorff, the Nationalist.

An Ossuary, built as a memorial to the French soldiers who fell in the great struggle for the defense of Verdun was dedicated on the battlefield there yesterday. A light in the tower, to be maintained in perpetuity, was kindled by Marshal Petain, who issued the famous order: "They shall not pass."

Vincennes of France, addressing a banquet in welcome to the American Legion in Paris, said with reference to Germany's war guilt that he did not wish to keep war hatred alive, but was determined to keep history straight as to German actions that brought America soldiers to France.

LONE BANDIT HELD UP BANK AND MADE ESCAPE WITH LOOT

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 19.—The Farmers National Bank of Buda was robbed Monday morning by a lone bandit, a heavy-set man ordering the cashier, F. A. Jamison, and his assistant, W. M. Woods, into a rear room, while he leisurely scooped up approximately $1,100 in $20, $10 and $5 bills.

The robbery occurred at 9:10 a. m., immediately after the bank had opened for the day's business. The robber came in, pulled out his gun, and shouted:

"Stick 'em up and be quick about it."

Cashier Jamison complied and marched into a back room with Woods at the bandit's order.

The bandit took all the money in sight and walked out of the bank. Jamison and Woods conferred in whispers, and just as they had decided it was safe to come out of the room, the bandit appeared at a rear window of the bank and ordered them to "sit down and shut up."

The bandit then got into a small coupe, in which an accomplice was waiting, and the pair drove away toward Austin.

The bank was closed on order of President Carrington and a check up begun to determine the loss. The first estimate of $1,100 was regarded as conservative.

Officers were dispatched from the Austin police department to guard the main road leading from Buda into Austin and as far west as San Marcos, Texas. Rangers also hurried to Buda.

Rebecca Bradley Rogers is charged with robbing the same bank last December. She has not been tried yet.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND MEN OF AMERICAN LEGION MARCH THROUGH STREETS OF PARIS

By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 19.—Fourteen thousand men of the American Legion who fought for France, and many of their womenfolk, today marched in a great parade under the Arc de Triomphe and in homage to the Unknown Soldier, placed red, white and blue flowers around his grave.

It was the third time in French history that the Arc de Triomphe has been opened to a foreign body.

The flowers were laid in reverence and formed a fragrant wall around and virtually covering the Unknown's tomb.

The procession of Americans, returning in peace to the streets where they had once marched in the grim days of war, started from the Place D'Iena through the Arc de Triomphe, and then down the Champs Elysees to the Place de la Concorde where the marchers were reviewed by France's two greatest soldiers, Marshals Foch and Joffre, and America's war leader, General John J. Pershing.

The veterans' marching order was splendid, bringing marked approval from the immense crowd, happy and enthusiastic, which lined Paris' beautiful avenues.

The crowds were late in gathering to see the Legion parade because of rainy and threatening weather, but as the parade proceeded in its way, the weather improved and roofs, sidewalks, windows and every available point of vantage were occupied.

The youth appearance of the American war veterans appealed strongly to the French population. "They do not seem to have grown a bit older," was the comment heard several times.

The American Legion Auxiliary unit—the Legionnaires' women—also came in for many cheers.

France and the United States are as firm and strong now as in the past. President Coolidge declared in a message addressed to National Commander Howard P. Savage read at the opening of the Legion's convention today.

The message was greeted by the Legionnaires with thunderous applause.

Anti-American Legion Rioting

By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 19.—American and French flags were torn down, several shots fired and a lot of noses punched in an anti-American Legion demonstration at Cliehy today. The extremists had gathered at this place outside the city because of the police precautions taken to prevent demonstrations in Paris.

Cliehy is a Communist community and the place where the reds gather regularly on Sunday, and police only interfere when trouble starts.

MRS. K. E. SHEPARD FOUND DEAD IN BED SUNDAY MORNING

Mrs. K. E. Shepard, aged 74 years, was found dead in her bed, Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of her son, F. W. Shepard, who occupies an apartment at the S. J. Miles home on the State Capitol Home Road just west of the city. Death occurred sometime between 2 o'clock Sunday morning and the time the family arose at 7:30 o'clock. She had been in ill health for about twenty-five years.

Funeral services were held in the Sutherland Undertaking Parlor, Monday morning at 9 o'clock and the body was forwarded to Watertown, N. Y., for interment. The body was sent to Watertown on the 11 o'clock east-bound Cotton Belt train. F. W. Shepard accompanied the body. The services were conducted by Rev. F. P. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist church, and Rev. M. A. Turner, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church. It was Mrs. Shepard's request that her body be returned to Watertown for burial beside her husband who died twelve years ago.

Mrs. Shepard was born at Cape Vincent, N. Y. Her father was recorder of Watertown for a half century and was a prominent attorney there.

She came to Texas in 1881, residing at Waco until she moved to Corsicana about eight years ago.

Surviving are three sons: C. G. Shepard, Dallas; F. W. Shepard, Corsicana; L. J. Shepard, Corsicana; three sisters, Mrs. George F. Goodall, Waco; Miss Sadie Almsworth, Waco; Mrs. George B. Gardner, Rochester, N. Y.; two brothers, B. W. Almsworth, Marlin; Gus Almsworth, Oral, S. D.; and other relatives.

A number of friends of the family have ordered flowers by telegraph to be delivered at the cemetery in Watertown when burial is made. Instead of sending flowers here, due to the difficulty of sending them with the body from Corsicana that distance, it was stated Monday.

FIRST NORTHER OF AUTUMN STRUCK TEXAS YESTERDAY

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Sept. 19.—Hiding upon a high wind the first "norther" of autumn struck Texas late yesterday and sent the mercury tumbling 30 and more degrees over the greater part of the State. In Dallas the temperature yesterday afternoon stood at 94 and early today it had toppled to 56.

The cool wave was accompanied by rain in many parts of the State.

HOMES ARE THE KEY

It has been said before: The average person's conception of citizenship centers in a home.

If it is true that a large American financial firm is investing its money in Germany so that Berlin may build homes, then that is a better investment than many with which American bankers have tangled themselves in in European affairs.

The home is the greatest hindrance to war. The United States is a nation of home-owners or home-creators, and it took a lot to drag the country into the last war; and the man who gets the country into another, without positive and comprehensive and emergent need, will need to get up very early in the morning.

Discontent is the weapon of revolutionists. So discovered the anxious governments of Europe during the great war. Lloyd George's recruiting cry that England must be made a place "fit for heroes to live in" was literally a pledge that homes would be possible and available, and that
"heroes" would be in a position to acquire and sustain those homes.

Not much was done to that end on the spur of the moment. But the need remained and the discovery could not be overlooked.
The housing problem became the most persistent of all post-war undertakings. Within recent years government subsidy has moved thousands of English families out of rented and insufficient quarters into small, but modern, homes "of their own." A small house and a large garden, eternally freshened by the moist English climate, have been obtained by many a family which before the war never dreamed of anything but paying rent for inconvenient and unattractive houses.

Germany felt the same need, although not all of Germany in the same degree. Berlin was the notorious example of insufficiency and it has been merely a matter of gaining public confidence and interest abroad before a remedy should be undertaken.

If American money is building homes anywhere in the world it is building peace also.

KNOW TEXAS

The Texas State Library and Historical Commission at Austin has more than 71,000 volumes in addition to 35,000 pamphlets and 80,000 manuscripts.

The relation between the original forest area in Texas and the area today shows that the Texas forests are dwindling rapidly, according to the Texas Almanac.
Just how long large scale lumber production can continue is a matter of speculation, but it is usually placed at about ten years.

The annual lumber cut of Texas is about 1,500,000,000 board feet in addition to 400,000,000 feet cut for ties, poles, etc.

The number of resident hunting licenses issued in Texas last year was 71,745, bringing $132,727 in fees.

CONSTITUTION DAY.

This is the 14th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States. On September 17, 1787, the convention presided over by George Washington for four months completed its labors. The constitution which the convention reported to congress was the same in form, with the exception of the amendments, that we have today. And this is of highest significance. No vital change in the fundamental law has been made in more than a century and a third of its existence.

The frame of government which the constitution created is endowed with certain limited powers and from it the basic law withholds all powers not so granted. Every law enacted under authority of the constitution must conform to this supreme law; so conforming it becomes the law of the whole land.

Necessarily there must be an interpretive power; interpreting the constitution and passing on the validity of legislation is the function of the supreme court.

Our country is singularly blessed in the quality of its constitution. The great instrument has successfully met every test to which it has been subjected.
Its function is to protect the rights of the states and individuals, thereby promoting the general welfare. Holding congress rigidly within its legitimate sphere of action, as the supreme court does in determining the validity of legislation, the constitution is the very backbone of our democratic system of government, designed to secure all proper liberties and prevent oppression.

THE SEARCH FOR WEALTH

The quest for the fabled cities of Cibola, which in 1541 led Coronado and his band of adventurers into what is now Kansas, has been taken up by a new by the Kansas Historical Society. Where the Spanish explorer turned back disappointed after finding only rude Indian villages, excavators are digging into black earth, hoping to uncover neither gold nor precious gems but the implements and history of a departed people.

Coronado, it is reported, returned to Mexico after his unprofitable journey with a report that the plains to the north neither held nor could produce wealth. How wrong he was time has demonstrated. Kansas has given the world little in the way of so-called precious metals, but today her wealth in wheat, in corn, in the baser minerals and in the products of industry represents riches which an El Dorado might envy.

Much the same thing is true of Pennsylvania. When Charles II of England made his famous grant to William Penn he reserved to the crown a royalty in all the precious metals which might be there discovered. Pennsylvania, like Kansas, failed to produce them, but from its mines has come wealth in coal and iron alone beyond the rosiest dreams of that former monarch.

Neither Kansas or Pennsylvania has contributed that which glitters or scintillates. But in minerals and in the products of the farm
they have given their Nation much of the foundation of its wealth and its industry.

A permanent county fair plant is needed. A modern airport is needed. Why not combine the two and at the same time provide a permanent circus lot. All could be included in one plant. The plant should be conveniently located and easily accessible regardless of weather conditions. Such a plant would not cost much at the present. In a few years the price will be doubled. The city and county should join forces to put such a project over.

The Corsicana schools swung into action Monday with an absence of confusion that was most gratifying to teachers, students and parents. There was no delay, work was started the first day
through the efficiency of a smooth running school organization under the direction of Mr. H. D. Fillers, superintendent. Corsicana boasts a very fine school system of which every citizen is rightfully proud.

Abilene is the only city in Texas
in Corsicana's class that Col.
Lindbergh will visit. There's a reason. Abilene boasts a modern airport. Many planes would stop at Corsicana if facilities were available for servicing the planes.
Air travel has arrived to stay.
Eventually we will be forced to provide a modern airport. The delay will prove costly.

A statistician estimates that every third person in the United States works for a living. According to subtraction this leaves one to become an amateur golf star and another to go into the boxing business.

We expect to hear a lot more about that Pittsburgh university building, which is 34 stories high, when they begin to drop boys at the end of the first semester.

People who find it difficult to live within their incomes would find it even more difficult to live without their incomes.

It may be that golf is less popular with bachelors because they haven't a home to get away from.

GENERAL PERSHING, MARSHAL FOCH AND LEGION HEAD SPEAK

By Associated Press.

Paris, Sept. 17.—On the slopes of Mount Vale-rien overlooking all Paris and surrounded by the marble crosses marking the last resting place of 1500 comrades who gave their lives on the battlefield, General John J. Pershing and National Commander Howard P.
Savage today paid the tribute of the American Legion to their fallen buddies.

There was a drizzle of rain at times during the short ceremonies at which General Pershing, Commander Savage and Marshal Foch made the only addresses, the American Legion commander
speaking directly to the dead rather than to the living audience. A distinguished company of French military and civil leaders was present.

The ceremonies were presided
over by Sheldon Whitehouse, American charge d'affaires, and those attending included General
Debeney and Gouraud, Colonel Bentley Mott, M. B. Babin, prefect of the Seine, and Captain Hon-tal, who is aide to Marshal Foch.

The inclement weather and the lack of transportation facilities from Paris kept many Legionnaires away, to the attendance, which was rather small, was about equally divided between Americans and French.

Pershing Speaks First.
General Pershing, the first speaker, noted the fact that the first act of the official Legion delegation had been to pay tribute to their dead French comrades at the Ave De Triomphe after their arrival yesterday and then to their own dead comrades in Suresnes cemetery this morning.

"These companions of ours
came to France with all the enthusiasm men can have when engaged to defend a sacred cause," General Pershing said. "They came representing the people who have ever fought for liberty and justice and they came to answer the call of their traditional friends across the sea. No soldier would ask a sweeter resting place than in the field of glory where he fell. The people of two nations watch over him in ceaseless solitude and to each he becomes a symbol of mutual gratitude."

Marshal Foch in a strikingly brief address, crowded into a few words the real feeling of France toward the Legion and the comrades in arms resting in the soil of France.

"Let us meditate deeply before these numerous graves," the Marshal said. "What lesson do they convey in their impressive silence, these men, so young, who sleep here their last sleep. . . .
On the day they saw the justice,
liberty and peace of the world menaced by violence and might, nothing could stop them. They took up their arms."

Savage Sneaks to Dead.
Commander Savage's account of the stewardship of the Legion to their comrades' resting place in the soil of France met the approval of the audience fully as much as the remarks made by General

TEACHERS MEETING HELD KERENS FOR PERFECTING PLANS

Special to the Sun.
Kerens, Texas, Sept. 16. A meeting of the teachers of the Kerens High and Grammar Schools for white children, suggested and planned by J. J. Hendricks, Superintendent of the Kerens Public Schools, was begun Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at which time plans and discussions for a better school year were taken up. The meeting to date has covered a period of four days, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 8, 9, 10 and 11, and dates have been set for other regular meetings to be held throughout the 1927-28 school terms. Call meetings will also be in vogue during the two semesters.

The purpose of these meetings is to create not only a co-operative spirit among the teachers, but to carry out a program throughout the school year that will benefit the Kerens schools in a large way. At the first meeting general plans for the year were formed and discussed, while on the following day the teachers met for the purpose of familiarizing themselves with instructional materials as a part of their school work, and Saturday Curriculum Construction was planned. The meeting for Tuesday was for organization for Curriculum after which attention was called to the next meeting to be held Tuesday, September 20 at 7 p. m. at which time standards for the improvement of Arithmetic will be discussed. Other meetings, with the exception of a number of call meetings, during the year will be held on the following dates and programs and discussions will be carried out as follows:

Standards for the Improvement of Reading, Tuesday, Sept. 27, 7 p. m.
Standards for the Improvement of Handwriting, Tuesday, Oct. 4, 7 p. m.
Teacher's Marks, Saturday, Oct. 8, 9:30 a. m.
Discipline, Tuesday, Oct. 18, 7 p. m.

The Teaching Profession Tuesday, Nov. 1, 7 p. m.
Teacher Visitation, Tuesday, Nov. 15, 7 p. m.
U. L. Activities Tuesday, Jan. 10, 7 p. m.
First Semester Results and Plans for Second Semester, Sat. Feb. 18, 9:30 a. m.
School Exhibit, (Parent's Day), Tuesday, March 14, 7 p. m.

Plans for Plant Testing Program, Tuesday, April 18, 7 p. m.
Reports, Summer Plans, etc., Tuesday, May 9, 7 p. m.

Pitts, president for the past year. W. H. Sealy, Kossie; H. E. Tolson, M. L. Enters; Mrs. J. Love, Coolidge; John Martin, Gresham; are vice presidents. Mrs. J. B. Thomas, Tehuacan, is secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be October 8.

PANAMA PRESIDENT EXPRESSES HOPE FOR SETTLING DISPUTES

By Associated Press.
Panama, Sept. 16.—The fervent desire that any differences between Panama and the United States be settled by them without foreign intervention was expressed by President Chiriac at a banquet tendered in the presidential palace last night to Admiral Charles F. Hughes, commander of the American battle fleet.

The president's remarks made in a toast to his guest, were taken as a refutation of the suggestion made at Geneva by Dr. Eusbie

FREAK BOLL OF COTTON FILLED WITH SEED ONLY

A cotton boll of normal size and containing its regular portion of seed but lacking any trace of lint, was on display at the Chamber of Commerce Friday. The freak of nature was of average size and of regular appearance except for the absence of the staple. It was grown on the Dr. W. H. Dunn farm about four miles north of Corsicana by J. H. Sumner.

Only one stalk of the plant has been found but all of the bolls on this stalk were of a similar nature. The seed in the bolls were a glossy black. Various agricultural authorities were unable to explain the phenomenon.

Officers Elected For Ensuing Term By Local U. D. C.

After two months vacation of the hot summer months, the United Daughters of the Confederacy held their first business session at the Navarro Hotel Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 14, with a large representation of the membership present.

Mrs. Hal Peck, retiring president of the Daughters of the Confederacy, presided, and thought the meeting a fit and proper time to pause and pay tribute to two deceased members, Mrs. M. S. Read and Mrs. Moncrief, who passed away since the last meeting of the chapter.

Mrs. Read and Mrs. Moncrief were pioneer members of Navarro Chapter, U. D. C., influential and active workers, showing a patriotic devotion to the work of the Daughters of the Confederacy at all times and bringing distinction and honor to their beloved chapter.

Mrs. Peck spoke of the loving service of Mrs. Read to her church and family, and noted her as a woman of faith and faithfulness, a person of character and beauty, and a true friend.

Mrs. Geo. T. Jester and Mrs. J. A. Townsend, life-long friends and neighbors of Mrs. S. Read, paid beautiful and tender tribute to the memory of their friend, speaking of the help and inspiration that had come to their lives from the association of the unselfish life and character of Mrs. Read, sharing with her the joys and benefits that are derived from unselfish service among neighbors and friends.

Following the memorial service, the nominating committee submitted the ticket of officers for the ensuing year, as follows: Miss Hattie Kenner, president; Mrs. A. H. Willie, first vice president; Mrs. Ballard George, second vice president; Miss Allie Johnson, third vice president; Mrs. J. V. Noble, fourth vice president; Mrs. M. L. D. Adams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. O. Wilkerson, recording secretary and historian; Mrs. Mary Bell Fallon, custodian.

Mrs. W. A. Hammett, treasurer; Mrs. Geo. Miller, parliamentarian; Mrs. Ben Blackmon, registrar; Mrs. Hal Peck is post-laudate for the chapter, also an active member of the welfare committee, offering her beautiful and spacious home for their pleasure and entertainment at all times.

The officers named by the nominating committee were unanimously elected, the chapter pledging their full co-operation and support.

The U. D. C. Navarro Chapter is indeed fortunate to have Miss Hattie Kenner as their new president. She is a true daughter of the "Old South," and in recognition of the honor of president conferred upon her, will do all in her power to promote the interest of the organization, maintaining the principles for which the South sacrificed.

The thirty-first annual convention of Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held at Wichita Falls, Texas, in October of this year and the following delegates and alternates were elected to attend this convention:

Delegates: Mrs. Hal Peck, Miss Hattie Kenner, Mrs. M. L. D. Adams and Mrs. A. H. Willie. Alternates: Mrs. W. H. Millam, Mrs. J. Y. Stewart, Mrs. C. D. Speed and Mrs. W. A. Hammett.

LARGE ATTENDANCE UPON MEETING OF POULTRY RAISERS

More than one hundred poultry raisers attended the clinic staged by the Navarro County Poultry Association and the Chamber of Commerce held at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon. Special speakers for the day were Walter Burton and Dr. R. C. McCain.

All kinds of problems were presented concerning the raising, breeding and various ailments of poultry. Post-mortem examinations and diagnosis of several ailments were made at the meeting, and the proper methods of treatment outlined.

Burton is the head of the Poultry department of the State Fair of Texas and representative of the Universal Mills of Fort Worth. Dr. McCain is with the Research and Clinic department of the George H. Lee Company of Omaha, Nebraska. He was formerly state veterinarian for four years for South Dakota and was also veterinarian for the United States Department of Agriculture in California.

Special entertainment was furnished during the afternoon by Prof. J. B. Stephenson of the Haulee School of Hawaiian Music of Dallas. Sandwiches and soda water were served the visitors at the Chamber of Commerce late in the afternoon.

Another session of the meeting will be held Saturday evening.

BULL MOVEMENT RECEIVED TERRIFIC JOLT ON STOCK EXCHANGE; PRICES BREAK

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 19. The "bull" movement on the New York Stock Exchange which has carried prices to record high levels in the last few weeks, received a terrific jolt today when a flood of selling orders swept into the market, and carried prices of many issues down five to nearly 15 points.

The reaction, while widely characterized as a necessary correction of a top-heavy speculative position, undoubtedly was stimulated by the marking up of the call money renewal rate of 3 3/4 percent and the calling of about $10,000,000 in bank loans, presumably to repair the deficit.

In reserve the stock in last Saturday's Clearing House statement.

National Tea broke 13 points. DuPont 9, General Motors (old) 8 1/2, and General Motors (new) 8 1/2. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe.

TWENTY-FIVE LIGHT PLANES TAKE OFF FROM ROOSEVELT FIELD FOR PACIFIC COAST

By Associated Press.
Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Twenty-five light commercial planes took off on the first leg of a cross-country flight to Spokane, Washington, this morning. The start was made at 6:01 Eastern Standard Time, and by 6:32 a. m. the last starter had left.

All the take-offs, made at one minute intervals, were accomplished with a clock-like precision and smoothness. Weather conditions which had threatened postponement shortly before the race cleared up quickly at the last minute.

The race was the first of three scheduled to start today, tomorrow and Wednesday, as part of the national air meet at Spokane.

Various pilots agreed that the planes would do well if they averaged 90 miles an hour. They estimated that two and a half hours would be required to make the flight to Bellefonte, Pa., where the first five minute compulsory stop was to be made; two hours from Bellefonte to Bryan, Ohio, where another five minute stop was scheduled; and a hour and a half from Bryan to Chicago, where the planes will stop over night tonight.

NOTED OKLAHOMA OUTLAW SENTENCED DEATH FOR MURDER

Okmulgee, Okla., Sept. 19.—Matthew Kimes, youthful Oklahoma outlaw, today was sentenced to death by an Okmulgee county District Court jury that convicted him for murder for his alleged part in a double bank robbery at Hedges in which Police Chief W. J. McAnally was killed.

The jury found Kimes guilty late yesterday but disagreed on the punishment which should be given started immediately.

After ten hours of deliberation the jurors reported this morning that they were hopelessly disagreed, 11 to 1, on the degree punishment.

District Judge James Hayes, however, instructed them to continue their deliberations and the verdict was returned a few minutes later.

Judge Hayes has not yet decided when Kimes will be sentenced.

The State immediately began with the trial of Roy Brandon, crime, who is being tried for the same murder for his alleged part in a double bank robbery at Hedges in which Police Chief W. J. McAnally was killed.

The jury found Kimes guilty late yesterday but disagreed on the punishment which should be given started immediately.

COME TO SEE US IN OUR NEW HOME.

SEVERAL ENTRANTS IN LOCAL AUDITION CONTEST LISTED

Interest is growing in the local radio audition contest to select the young woman and young man who will enter the State contest for honors in the National Radio Audition sponsored by the Atwater-Kent Foundation of Philadelphia for the purpose of developing young and promising voices for radio concerts and at the same time giving the contestants an opportunity to win valuable prizes and to pursue their musical studies under voice teachers of recognized ability.

The local audition will take place in the auditorium of the First Baptist church on the evening of Friday, September 22, and the decision as to the singer possessing the best voices among the young women and the young men will be made by a half of the audience present. Programs will be printed and given out to the audience carrying the program and ballot and after the audition has closed the individual members of the audience will mark their choice on the ballots and deposit them in a box at the door as they pass out.

Up to the present time the following have signified their intention of entering the contest and it is expected that several others will be added to the list before the time for closing entrants at noon Monday, September 19. Misses Maude Smith, Sue Robinson, Louise Parker, all of Corsicana, and Miss Cecile Taylor of Hubbard City, and Messrs. Hampton Keathley and Roy Leeds of Corsicana. A number of ambitious young singers from surrounding towns and communities where there will be no local auditions are expected to enter the contest here.

The singers will give their selections from behind screens and will not be seen by the audience, which is to be the final judge. There will be no admission charge and the general public, especially the music lovers, are urged to be present and aid in making this local audition the success that it deserves to be. Miss Dorothy Drane, chairman of the local audition committee, is working unflinchingly to make the affair a success and give the singers an opportunity to compete for the valuable prizes offered by the Atwater-Kent Foundation, and she is being assisted by several local men and women who are also interested in this line of work.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE
The best workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It cures the system and restores the vim. It is the medicine needed to purify a dabbled health. Price 60c. Sold by Lee Drug Company.

AVIATION COMMITTEE NAMED BY PRESIDENT CHAMBER COMMERCE

President Sydney Marks of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce is ever alert to the progress of the age and always makes an effort to keep Corsicana's home town in the vanguard of progress. His latest demonstration of this fact is given in the naming of W. C. Stroube, chairman; J. S. Murchison, W. H. Hastings, R. J. Jackson, G. M. Boynton, G. C. Hudson and Lowry Martin as a committee on Aviation for the Chamber of Commerce.

In naming the committee President Marks made the following statement in a letter to each member of the committee:

"The rapid strides in commercial aviation are such that no city of vision can afford to ignore the progress being made. Just what Corsicana can do at this time, or is justified in doing, the Chamber of Commerce would like to know. I have named you gentlemen as a committee to give some thought to the study of this matter of aviation in order that our city may be in line with the advancement of other cities of similar size and situation."

"In view of the fact that an air mail route is projected from Dallas to Houston, either by way of Waco or Corsicana, the subject is timely. The Chamber of Commerce office may be relied on to obtain such information for your committee as may be necessary for consideration in planning."

"I am not asking that this committee make an immediate report to the Board of Directors unless you so desire, but I am requesting that you make a frank study of the subject and that you make such recommendations as your judgment may suggest, and whenever you may have had time to reach a conclusion, to the Directors."

Former Kerens Star Gone to Centenary

FORMAL OPENING FEED AND FLOUR STORE SATURDAY

Formal opening of the Quality Feed and Flour Company was held all day Saturday at the new quarters of the store, formerly occupied by the C. R. Torrey Feed Company. Two-pound sacks of flour were presented to each visitor.

The quarters of the new store have been remodeled and freshly painted and present a very attractive appearance. A new office has been installed, and the floors will be reworked during the coming week.

Special representatives of the Bewley Mills, of Fort Worth, were present at the opening of the store, and assisted in the opening of the new enterprise in distributing the line of goods to be carried by the store. Included in the group were R. K. Huges, J. K. Cunningham, R. L. Lawrence, R. M. Ewing, all of the mills at Fort Worth; L. E. Dooley, of the store at Waxahachie, and R. E. Nix and R. H. Farley, the proprietors.

Refreshments were served to all of the visitors, in addition to the present of a two-pound sack of Bewley's Best Flour. Drawings were held at 2, 5 and 8 o'clock, when one forty-eight-pound sack of flour, one twenty-four pound sack, one twelve and one six-pound sack were given to those whose names were drawn.

The new firm will handle the Bewley Mills brands of flour, the Purina line of feeds, and buy and sell feeds of all kinds.

A large number of people visited the new store during the day.

PROTEST FILED AGAINST INVITING GERMAN AIR ACE

By Associated Press.
Spokane, Wash., Sept. 17.—Members of the Service Star Legion composed of women relatives of world war veterans voted today to send a letter of protest to the National Air Derby Association of this city, asking that an invitation extended Jack Von Weikand, German air ace, be recalled. "The members, many of them Gold Star Mothers, regretted that the Air Association would make a hero of the man who shot down Quentin Roosevelt and twenty-one other American aviators during the world war," said an announcement of the action, which was termed "protest of regret."

The Air Derby Association this week sent a telegram to Captain Von Weikand, who is in this country, inviting him to attend the air races here next week, as a guest of the Association.

MEXIA ROTARIANS HEAR ADDRESS ON FARMING BUSINESS

Special to the Sun.
Mexia, Texas, Sept. 16.—"There are six million people in Texas and they eat eighteen million meals a day. If everything that is served on their tables was raised on Texas farms, it would be the richest country per capita in the world."

This is the conclusion of G. W. Orms, district agent of the agricultural extension service, who addressed the Mexia Rotary Club here this week.

Mr. Orms praised the work of Paul G. Haines, county agent, and Mrs. Sadie Hatfield, demonstration agent, in Limestone county. "But there is lots to be done," he added.

"We are spending 6,000,000 a year for lettuce and tomatoes shipped from California to Texas," Orms pointed out "and we can raise lettuce and tomatoes here that are just as good."

"We will make 4,750,000 bales of cotton in the state this year and receive $60 a bale more for it than we received last year. But a big part of this money will be sent out of the state for food and feed crops that we could raise right here at an immense saving."

"We may grow 600,000 pounds of butter annually from other states and Texas is admirably adapted to the dairy cattle business."

"We spend $50,000,000 a year for pork products that we could raise at a profit."

"The demand for cows and hogs is increasing and I believe that the development of the dairy cattle, beef cattle, hog and poultry business in Texas is due to mean much to the state."

Mr. Orms noted the large cotton textile mill here and said that there should be one in every town in Texas.

INTERSTATE COTTON SEED CRUSHERS ASSN BACKING RESEARCH

MATTER DEVELOPING NEW USES FOR COTTON SEED PRODUCTS SPONSORED

Special to the Sun.
Dallas, Texas, September 19.—The announcement by the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association that it has launched a definite program of basic research looking to the development of new and very important uses for cotton seed products is of the greatest interest to the entire South, declared John T. Orr, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, today.
"While there are a great many organizations and institutions, including the government, continually seeking to extend the uses of cotton, the development of cotton seed products seems always to have been left to the oil millers alone," said Mr. Orr, who added, however, that the crushers have done pretty well with the job since they have succeeded in elevating cotton seed from a "nuisance" to a valuable commodity.
Mr. Orr said that the research program launched by the Interstate association with Dr. E. P. Clark, noted chemist in charge, was of the greatest importance to the farmers in the South because they realize that anything that tends to increase the value of cotton seed products is ultimately reflected in the price paid for seed.
"In this connection," said Mr. Orr, "I feel that the farmers of the South should get solidly behind the movement to use cotton and cotton seed products whenever and wherever possible. I have always felt that perhaps we have been negligent in this respect. If we should get behind this movement over the entire South 100 per cent we would greatly increase the demand for both cotton and cotton seed products."
"In using cotton and cotton seed products the farmer is merely furthering his live-at-home program—a program that spells success for the farmer."
Not only should the farmers use these products of the South themselves but they should insist upon everybody else doing likewise. This movement to extend the uses of cotton and cotton seed is a great movement and every one in the South should give it full support.

CONDITIONS GOOD IN LIMESTONE AND FREESTONE COUNTIES

Special to the Sun.
Mexico, Texas, Sept. 19.—With a fair crop of cotton selling at a good price after the cost of making the crop was small farmers of this Limestone-Freestone counties district, passed the half way mark in gathering their crops, are witnessing more prosperity than in a number of years, a survey of principal towns shows.
The "Bi-stone Empire," as the Limestone-Freestone area is called, has garnered already more than 40,000 bales of cotton and 20,000 bales remain to be ginned, estimates show.
Cotton receipts in the principal towns to the end of last week show:
Thornton 4125 bales, Coolidge 2769 bales, Fairfield 1306, Kosse 2523, Tehuacana 670, Teague 2670, Groesbeck 4020 and Mexico 2667 bales.
With perfect picking weather farmers have had to employ only a few outside cotton pickers and that has saved more money for the grower.
All gins are running to capacity. Better than usual staple has been reported and cotton is middling to strict middling grade. Due to strong competition both cotton and cotton seed markets have been very active in this district.

TEAGUE PLANNING CHAMBER COMMERCE ORGANIZATION SOON

Special to the Sun.
Mexico, Texas, Sept. 19.—A Chamber of Commerce is to be formed at Teague, according to information here. The Lions Club of Teague, railroad shop and agricultural center 12 miles from here, has named a committee headed by Frank Tolson to make a survey. If the chamber is formed it will make the sixth active chamber of commerce in the "Bi-Stone Empire" of Limestone and Freestone counties. Wortham, Mexico, Coolidge, Groesbeck and Kosse have chambers of commerce, with paid secretaries. There is talk of forming a chamber of commerce at Thornton, leading cotton market of the district.

COMMUNITY FAIRS IN VAN ZANDT ARE DRAWING CROWDS

Special to the Sun.
Wills Point, Sept. 19.—Community fairs were held at Edgewood and Martins Mill last week and one is being held at Colfax Monday and Browning Tuesday. Extra good exhibits are being shown at these fairs and large crowds are attending. They are educational in their program and the farmers are seeking better methods.
The best of each of these fairs will be shown at the Free State Fair here September 21-24. The communities will have collective exhibits and individual exhibits.
The county program calls for exhibits from the county to be shown at the district fair at Tyler and the State Fairs of Texas and Louisiana. This is part of the county program fostered by the War, Plant, chamber of commerce and other similar organizations of the county.
The Free State Fair will feature the results of diversified farming in the county. The live stock and poultry exhibit will be of superior quality showing the result of better breeding stock.
The women's work has enlarged quarters and will show many articles of needle work and culinary art. The girl's club work will be a feature of the women's department.
Mrs. G. D. Stoten has arranged an entertainment program covering the four nights. Wednesday night will be the pageant depicting the history of Van Zandt county; Thursday night will be a contest of old fiddlers; Friday night A. B. Swank will arrange a fire works display and Saturday night a variety program will be given.

INFORMATION GIVEN OUT SATURDAY WHEN REQUESTED TO RUN

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 17. William G. McAdoo has informed his friends that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928.

His decision has been communicated to George F. Mehan, publisher of the Chattanooga Times, New York, in a letter sent in response to a request from Mr. Mehan that he announce his candidacy.

The letter, together with the one from Mr. Mehan to which it was a reply, was made public today at Mr. McAdoo's law office here.

Declaring that his "chief concern" was the "supremacy of democratic principles and progressive policies," Mr. McAdoo said that "perhaps I can do more to advance these objects as a private citizen than as a candidate for the presidency."

"I prefer to stand aside," he added, "in order that the field may be left clear, so far as I can clear it, for the development of a leadership that can more effectively gain these ends."

"I shall not, therefore, be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928."

In his letter Mr. McAdoo recalled the Madison Square Garden convention of three years ago, at which, on 91 ballots, he led the field of candidates, declaring that "if the Democratic situation should again develop in such a way as to merit for me the nomination, I would be glad to accept it."

Principles and Policies First.

"Everything possible should be done," he continued, "to prevent the 1928 convention from degenerating into a mere struggle of individuals for personal preferment at the expense of principles and policies of fundamental importance to the party character and to the welfare of the nation. Principles and policies must come first. Personal ambitions, however legitimate, and every selfish purpose should be subordinated to them."

"My chief concern is the supremacy of democratic principles and progressive policies, for these mean the preservation, unimpaired of the constitution of the United States, the suppression of nullification and the enforcement of law, without which no government is possible, and without which the blessings of liberty will disappear; justice to agriculture, without which the farmers cannot get their rightful share of national prosperity, and social and economic justice for all classes, without which human opportunity cannot be widened."

"After declaring he would not be a candidate next year, Mr. McAdoo said:

"But the struggle for the preservation of the constitution in its integrity, for the defeat of nullification, for obedience to law and for the stern repression of crime, for a corruptible government, for impartial justice, social and economic, for orderly progress and for wider human opportunities, must be carried on and every earnest patriot must see that it is carried on."

In an effort to achieve these things, I shall, as a private citizen, be glad to co-operate with all those who deem them essential to the public welfare."

Mr. Mehan in his letter had told Mr. McAdoo that the "progressive Democrats of the country were looking for leadership, and that a survey of the nation had convinced him that 'the principles and progressive policies you advocated in 1924 have grown stronger and that your strength is greater.'"

Whether Mr. McAdoo's declaration will draw from Governor Smith any statement of his plans is a matter of widespread speculation among politicians here, and among those who have urged that both Mr. McAdoo and Governor Smith eliminate themselves in the interest of party harmony. Some of these pointed to the exact quotation of Mr. McAdoo that he preferred to clear the field "so far as I can clear it" for the development of a party leadership.

There was nothing in the letter to indicate to whom the support of the McAdoo forces might be thrown, a subject which has been of intense interest since the campaign of 1924.

Senator Reed Refuses Comment

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Sept. 17. United States Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, who has been mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, refused to comment here today on William G. McAdoo's announcement that he would not be a candidate next year.

Senator Reed took the stump against McAdoo in 1924.

Call For Withdrawal Of Governor Smith

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 17. A call for Governor Smith to follow the lead of William G. McAdoo and "withdraw from the race" was contained in a statement here today by Senator Harris of Georgia, who said that unless the Governor takes such action "the next Democratic convention will see a repetition of the Madison Square Garden fight." "The only chance of Democratic success is for us to unite on some man the Smith and McAdoo factions can agree upon," he said.

"I have nothing but the kindest feelings toward Governor Smith."

MOODY ADMITS REFUSED SPEAK WITH FERGUSON

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 17.—Governor Dan Moody today frankly admitted that he broke a speaking engagement for the Henderson County Fair because former Governor James E. Ferguson, also had been asked to speak.

"Certainly I would not speak on the same platform with Jim any more than I would with some man I might have prosecuted while district attorney," Moody said.

Ferguson is to make an address at the fair September 22.

He has made a splendid governor but Secretary McAdoo made one of the greatest secretaries of the treasury the country has ever had and his claims on the party are equally as great as those of Governor Smith.

"I have taken no part in the matter and I am not supporting any candidate."

Smith Declines to Comment

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 17. Governor Alfred E. Smith, potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, declined to comment today on the announcement by William G. McAdoo that he would not be a candidate.

Shaver Declines Comment.

Fairmount, W. Va., Sept. 17.—C. L. Shaver, Democratic national chairman, declined today to comment on the announcement of W. G. McAdoo that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

"I may have something to say later," Shaver said.

SAYS MAYOR SWORE TAKE ORDERS ONLY FROM KU KLUX KLAN

By The Associated Press.
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—Dr. George S. Henninger, a Methodist Episcopal Minister, testified today as the trial of Mayor John L. Duval of Indianapolis, on a charge of violating the corrupt practices act that Duval took an oath that he would "not receive instructions or dictations from any political group in Marion County other than the Ku Klux Klan."

The testimony was admitted over strenuous objections by defense counsel. Duval is being tried on an affidavit charging that he promised William H. Armitage, local politician, the privilege of naming three appointees to city positions in return for $10,000 and Armitage's political aid during the 1925 campaign.

Dr. Henninger, who said he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan at the time, testified that Duval took the oath in the presence of about 1,500 members of that order in the community house of the East Tenth Street Methodist Episcopal Church prior to the 1925 primary. He said forty or fifty other candidates for various offices took the same oath.

ACHED ALL OVER

Was Suffering Dreadfully, Just "Wasting Away," Took Cardui, and Says It Helped Her.

Arlington, Texas.—A resident of this town for many years, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, says:

"I had suffered dreadfully with aching all over my body. At times my head would give me so much trouble I could hardly stand it. I had been in bed for weeks and I looked like I was just wasting away."

"I took 9 bottles of Cardui and my strength began to slowly return. Since that time I have used this medicine a good many times and it has always helped me."

"At one time I took Cardui for several months regularly. I would be afflicted with sudden spells of dizziness when I could not stand on my feet. Everything would turn black before my eyes and I would feel as if I were going to faint. A time I would be quite nauseated. It turned at once to Cardui and took it till I was all right."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic made from purely vegetable ingredients. It has been in use for over 5 years, and in that time thousands of women have written that Cardui helped them back to good health.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT PROHIBITS ISSUANCE PRICE TREND FORECASTS IN FUTURE

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Sept. 17. The Department of Agriculture has prohibited the issuance in the future of forecast of price trend on products according to Secretary Jardine.

The ban against the predictions resulted after the department's chairman has received a flood of protests to officials from Southern members of Congress and leading cotton interests against its recent report on cotton price trends which caused breaks in several markets of the country. At a cabinet session which lasted two hours, the longest meeting since President Coolidge took office, the report and the protests received careful consideration and the president's prohibition order.

The president also, after the cabinet meeting, announced that he regarded price trend forecasts by government departments as hazardous but he added the clarifying of the situation would be left in the hands of the agriculture officials.

Secretary Jardine supplemented his order with a statement declaring that the forecasts were "based on statistics representing production, world stocks, consumption and the usual relation of the prospective supply to leading cotton interest price." Similar reports had been prepared monthly for two years in the department, he added, for the aid of farmers in planning their marketing and production programs. Opinion among the department officials held such price forecasts were of immeasurable value to producers, but it was apparent the general public is not prepared to protect itself against "persons who use the information for unfair advantage."

UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION COMPLETED ON SEPT. 17, 1787 BY PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION

(Editor's Note.—Omitting the historical portions, we here reproduce that part of an address made before the Lion's Club, Sept. 13th, by J. H. Woods, dealing with the principles upon which the constitution of the United States was based.)

Every country in the world may be said to be governed under something that may be called a constitution. Written or unwritten, coming from the people or by the grace of some ruler, Judge Brewer has said: "Written constitutions place in unchanging form limitations upon legislative action, and this gives a permanency and stability to popular government, which would otherwise be lacking."

A recent author has described the American Constitution as a written document, some what altered by unwritten custom or precedent and some what reshaped and expanded as to some of its parts by written statutes and judicial opinions.

The constitution of the United States is a written, especially related and established by the people of the United States, specifically setting out in definite terms the powers given to the National Government, prohibiting to the states certain powers, and in the tenth amendment, especially reserving to the states or to the people all other powers. It can only be amended by the joint action of the people and Congress.

The distinctive fundamental principles set out in this constitution have been by competent students, usually discussed under four divisions.

First, the constitution provides for a Federal or Dual system of government. There is a central government, whose powers are derived from the people, plainly enumerated and whose limits of power are defined in the constitution itself. It is expressly ordained therein, that the constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof, and the treaties with foreign powers, shall be the supreme law of the United States.

Second, the constitution provides for a Federal or Dual system of government. There is a central government, whose powers are derived from the people, plainly enumerated and whose limits of power are defined in the constitution itself. It is expressly ordained therein, that the constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof, and the treaties with foreign powers, shall be the supreme law of the United States.

Third, the constitution provides for a Federal or Dual system of government. There is a central government, whose powers are derived from the people, plainly enumerated and whose limits of power are defined in the constitution itself. It is expressly ordained therein, that the constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof, and the treaties with foreign powers, shall be the supreme law of the United States.

Fourth, the constitution provides for a Federal or Dual system of government. There is a central government, whose powers are derived from the people, plainly enumerated and whose limits of power are defined in the constitution itself. It is expressly ordained therein, that the constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof, and the treaties with foreign powers, shall be the supreme law of the United States.

Individual Liberty Guaranteed.

Third, the constitution provides for a Federal or Dual system of government. There is a central government, whose powers are derived from the people, plainly enumerated and whose limits of power are defined in the constitution itself. It is expressly ordained therein, that the constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof, and the treaties with foreign powers, shall be the supreme law of the United States.

When we look down our hun-dered years and see the origin of our constitution, when we contemplate all its trials and triumphs, when we realize how completely the principles upon which it is based have met every national need and every national peril, how devotedly should we say with Franklin, "God governs in the affairs of men."

It comes to us with the test of a century. It has been found sufficient in the past, and it will be found sufficient in all the years to come, if the American people are true to their sacred trust.

That the people have the original right to establish for their future government, such principles, as in their opinion, shall most conduce to their own happiness, is the basis on which the whole American fabric has been erected. The powers of the legislature are defined and limited, and that those limits may not be mistaken or forgotten, the constitution is written. To what purpose are powers limited, and to what purpose is that limitation committed to writing, if these limits may, at any time, be passed by those intended to be restrained thereby?

Changes in the fundamental law may only be made by way of amending the constitution, in the manner and form provided by the people in the constitution itself.

The constitution is not the work of a few human wisdom. It is not the product of revelation or direct intuition, but is the work of the combined experience and profound thought of very human men. It provided a way to better times, and its immediate acceptance and work were noteworthy indeed. It came at a time of public distress and desperate demand for a remedy.

Through nearly a century and a half it has been tried and has not been found wanting in strength and adaptability to the needs of a fast growing people. It is far from perfect, but it has worked well, has been found good and is to be judged by its fruits. It is worthy of profound respect and should not be lightly altered. Nothing human is infallible, and governments, whatever their form, are only as moral as those who hold the reins of the government at the moment.

Forty years ago, on the one hundredth anniversary of the completion of the constitution, a great celebration was held in the city of Philadelphia, where most important ceremonies and orations were presented. A hundred thousand people gathered in Independence Hall yard, where a great stage had been erected. Upon it sat the representatives of the nation, the chief successor of President Washington, President Cleveland, with his beautiful young wife were present. Near him sat a former president, Hon. Rutherford B. Hayes.

Behind them were the Chief Justice and the Justices of the Supreme Court. Grouped about these, were numerous members of the Senate and House of Representatives, with high officers of state governments.

Near them were Ambassadors and ministers of nearly every nation in the world, to attest by their presence its universal admiration for America's supreme achievement in civility. Thus the fathers did not believe in the sovereignty of the people, nor did they believe in the sovereignty of the people in that sense. They believed that each in-

SIMPLE METHODS OF KEEPING CHICKENS HEALTHY ARE GIVEN

SATURDAY MEETING POULTRYMEN ONE OF MOST SUCCESSFUL YET HELD

Simple methods of keeping chickens healthy through prevention of common diseases were outlined by Dr. R. C. McCain, former State veterinarian of South Dakota and poultryman of wide experience, at the late afternoon session of the Navarro County Poultry Association held at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday.

Chickens are readily disposed to certain diseases and require intelligent handling for profitable production on a large scale. Insisted Dr. McCain. Constant efforts to keep the housing and premises clean and disinfected are essential, and such easy methods as properly mixing epsom salt with the mash every fifteen days were discussed in detail.

Dr. McCain, who is connected at present with the research and laboratory department of the George H. Lee Co., Omaha, Neb., concluded his talk by diagnosing several sick fowls. He explained and demonstrated certain diseases and parasites by a minute post-mortem of the fowl.

Walter Burton, head of the poultry department of the Texas State Fair and representative of the Universal Mills of Fort Worth, held the attention of the hundred poultrymen and their wives by his interesting talk on culling earlier in the afternoon. Mr. Burton is rated as an outstanding poultry authority of the Southwest and as a member of the national committee on perfection has had much to do with working out the standards by which awards are made at principal poultry shows.

Making his talk entirely practical, Mr. Burton used a number of fowls supplied by local breeders, pointing out various defects a plea for trap nesting and insisting on points of excellence. He made it clear that every person who raises chickens should know how to do their own preliminary culling.

A social session concluded the meeting. Barbecue sandwiches prepared by Miss Elma Lawson, home demonstration agent, and Miss E. Edwards of the Chamber staff, were served by Mrs. O. E. McInnis and Mrs. C. F. Bryan of the Zion's Rest Women's Club, assisted by others. Products of the Corsicana Coca Cola Bottling Co. were also served. Musical features were arranged by J. T. Newsum, who presented Mrs. J. R. Stephenson of the Hauulea School of Hawaiian Music of Dallas in some pleasing guitar numbers.

Two cakes given by the Chamber of Commerce as a courtesy to the ladies were won by Mrs. B. F. Hanson, Corsicana, R. F. D. 3, and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, 504 North Twenty-Fifth street. Local business men who handle products of interest to poultrymen introduced to the assembly, included Festus Pierce, Louis Tidd and R. H. Farley.

Jack Megarity, president of the Association, was in charge of the meeting and arrangements were handled by Henry Conroy, county agent, and Roy Christensen, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Announcements were made that a large number of show entries are expected at the Blooming Grove Fair, Oct. 13, 14 and 15, and that the Navarro Poultry Show would be held in Corsicana some time in December. The Saturday meeting was counted one of the most successful sessions of county poultrymen.

EAST TEXAS COTTON PALACE OPENS IN ATHENS MONDAY SEPT. 19

Special to the Sun. Athens, Texas, Sept. 19.—The biggest guns in Texas will speak at the East Texas Cotton Palace at Athens which opens Monday, September 19th and continues for one week.

Governor Dan Moody, Congressman Sanders, ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, Cone Johnson and Senator Mayfield will be the speakers. Governor Moody opens the fair Monday following the big parade of school children. All children will be admitted free and a Shetland pony will be given to some child on that day. More than 1,000 names have been submitted by children as suitable for the pony.

Congressman Sanders will speak Tuesday, and a large crowd of Van Zandtlers will be here on that day. Wednesday is negro day and some noted negro agriculturist will speak on that day.

Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson will speak on Thursday, September 22nd. This will be his first public appearance since retiring from the governor's mansion and the large press associations will send representatives here to chronicle his address.

Hon. Cone Johnson of the highway commission will speak on Friday, which has been designated as good roads day. Henderson county is in the midst of a road bond campaign and what Mr. Johnson has to say will be of particular interest.

On Saturday, the closing day, United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield will be the principal speaker. He will speak of the on the cotton situation which is of interest to every farmer.

Sixteen communities will have agricultural displays and there will be numerous individual exhibits.

The first showing of automobiles in East Texas will be made at the East Texas Cotton Palace this year, and a promise of a display of the new Ford has been made.

A new paved street leading direct to the fair grounds will make the fair easily accessible this year.

Athens will be in gay attire for the big week and as the Cotton Palace is the first major fair to be held in East Texas, a mammoth crowd is anticipated.

All former Athenians are invited to return to the old home during the week of the fair.

School Days Are Here

Children are now starting on another year of school. Have their eyes examined and be sure they will not be handicapped all year with defective vision.

Does Your Employer— "STAND YOU OFF" ON PAY DAY?

SUPPOSE you had what you consider a good job—free from worry except for your performance of its duties, the punching of the clock at the close of business on Saturday and the drawing of your salary check or pay envelope.

Let us suppose, further, that after a long period in the service of your employer, during which time everything ran smoothly, he would come to you some Saturday and say: "I have bargained for more than I can pay for. Today I must send you home without your salary. Some day I may be able to pay you, but I cannot make any definite promise. Please, however, return for work on Monday morning."

Would you return to work, "Monday morning" for an employer who "stood you off," without encouragement, on pay day? No. Why, then, should you demand credit from a merchant beyond the day on which he has every right to ask you for settlement? What's fair for one is fair for another.

In the name of everything that is usually termed "square shooting" it is only fair that we do a little reasoning.

The man who engages you to work for him, agreeing to pay you a stipulated salary on a certain day, and who, for one reason or another, fails to make good, is guilty of exactly the same injustice as you are when you buy on credit and fail to meet your obligations on a merchant's "pay day". Whatever action is fair for you to demand from an employer is fair for your merchants to demand from you. You have no right—morally or legally—to demand more than you are willing to give.

The next time you are tempted to buy something on credit, it may be well for you to ask yourself the question: "Suppose I cannot pay for this as I agree to?"

Then, before you make final negotiations — that is the time, not later—do a little serious thinking. Be as fair to your merchants as your employer is to you.
